

Total Eclipse of the Sun

From Oregon to South Carolina

The rest of the United States will see a partial eclipse.

Monday, August 21, 2017

The Library Staff invites you to our Partial Eclipse of the Sun Events

Saturday, August 19, 2017

Screening of the film

Hidden Figures: The untold true story of four African-American Women who helped launch our nation into space
There will be a discussion following the film on women in science

11:30 AM - Rated PG

Monday, August 21, 2017

Solar Eclipse Viewing Day - 12:30 PM

- Viewing of the eclipse with solar eclipse glasses
Support from the Moore Foundation, Research Corporation, and Google allows libraries to provide solar eclipse glasses
- Want to know about careers in Science?
Dr. Anthony U. Emekalam, Director, Elizabeth City State University Health Resource Center, will discuss careers in the science field
- We will have optical illusion crafts, glow sticks, and more

Don't miss this Memorable Event because the next total solar eclipse to go through the continental United States will be April 2024.

Refreshments will be served

All Events are Free & Open to the Public

Pasquotank County Library

100 E. Colonial Ave/

Elizabeth City, NC 27909

252-335-2473

<http://library.earlibrary.org/pasquotank/>